READY FOR DRIVE

PLANS FOR ARMENIAN RELIEF—FUNDS ARE COMPLETED

START CAMPAIGN SUNDAY

County Chairman C. E. Wells Announces City and Township Directors anad Workers.

No one doubts the ability of Nodaway county to raise more than its quota for the starving people of Armenia and Syria It is believed that it is not only possible, but altogether probable that much more than the amount will be raised.

The active canvass will start February 16 These few days intervening are busy days for the executive committee here, sending letters and instructions to all district committeemen and getting all the machinery thoroughly oiled for the pressing of the button at 2:30 p. m., Sunday, February 16.

Every school district in Nodaway county is asked to plan a meeting in their school houses for 2:30 o'clock Sunday, Feb. 16, when the campaign will be launched. In most cases the entire quota for the district will be raised at this meeting But the committeemen are to personally solicit every family who does not attend the meeting. You cannot help a worthier cause. This is the first really, unselfish campaign we have launched. Many whole states have already gone "over the top" raising their full quotas In one meeting of nine hundred people in New York City $600,000 was given, one man, Otto Kahn, giving $100,000.

"PALS" TOGETHER

FATHER AND SONS BANQUET LAST NIGHT WAS NOVEL EVENT

BOYS HAD A "COME-BACK",

And Their Elders Heard Some Very Illuminating Things—Returned Soldiers Tell Experiences.

It wasn't hard to tell who were the surprised ones at the banquet last night when two hundred fathers and sons sat down together at dinner in the parolrs of the First Christian church. The sons, from experience, knew what to expect and what was coming, but their dads were entirely unprepared for the things they were told and at the evidence that their progeny were equal to a "come back." And the "come-back" is going to rebound for a considerable time.

It was a novel and altogether enjoyable occasion, the Father an Son banquet and the "pep" of some of the sons found itself recurring in their dads, who tied their best to keep pace with them. J. F. Roelofson started the ball rolling when he discussed "A Dad's Problems." Mr. Roelofson, pointing to the fact that he had two of his own, said he had as yet been unable to solve them, but believed in father and son being pals and friends.

Chas. D. Bellows, Jr., declared the sons had some problems, too, one of them being the disposition of his spare time. Charlie pointed out the need for a Y. M. C. A., that the boys and their fathers might be brought closer together. He said the Zero Club was organized to take the place, after a fashion, of such an organization that the boys might have some place to spend their spare time. He said the boys would welcome the erection of a "Y" building.

Herman W. Hull responded to the toast, "What I Want of My Son," emphasizing the need for patriotic, intelligent, truthful, clean and law abiding young men and citizens.

"What I Want of My Dad," Claude Glass said, was to have him a counselor and protector and one in whom he could confide fully. An amusing personal experience indicated that at least one of these attributes had been found in the elder Glass.

"What I Owe My Son," was discussed by J. F. Hull who said that fathers owed their sons opportunity—the chance to secure education and the right to make decisions for themselves.

Virgil R. Borrusch, in responding to the toast, "What I Owe My Dad" said that sons owed their fathers an obligation that would be hard to repay and that an honest effort should be made to show appeciation by living a manly, upright life and by being the son a father would like to have.

Joseph Jackson, Jr., said his idea of "Son and I" was one of comradeship and pals and a desire on the part of each to make a chum and associate of the other.

Martin Lewis, Jr., who had the other end of the question, "Dad and I," said that after studying the maater over all day he met Mr. Jackson in the church just before the dinner and that after being "pumped" as to what he was going to talk about had listened to Mr. Jackson deliver the talk he had so carefully prepared. Martin's "happy" talk brought many laughs while a serious appeal for closer comadeship between father and son made a deep impression.

"Our Sons Over There," was responded to by I. B. Williams, who pointed out some of the wonderful things that had been accomplished in the war by our boys in khaki. Two words, "pep" and "pals," Mr. Williams said would long be cherished as indicating the spirit of American manhood.

"Why I Shall Need My Dad After the War," was responded to by Eugene Bird, recently returned from service in France, who declared that fathers could help their sons to drop some of their army habits and to return to civil life. Eugene said that the boys would come back with a new philosophy of life and things would be changed for them. "You need not be afraid to talk of religious matters to your boy back from service at the front," said he. "He has learned many things he had never thought of. Alone in shel holes and while in expectancy of every moment being his last, he has thought of his life—he has prayed. I know one sergeant who told me he had to promise himself that he would lead a better life before he could find the courage to go over the top."

Judge John M. Dawson who spoke on "Maryville and Her Boys," said that as he had never raised any sons that he felt peculiaraly fitted to speak on the subject. Judge Dawson explained he workings of the Juvenile court and took occasion to give sever reprimand to negligent parents who allowed their sons to drift into ways and company that later found them leading lives of crime.

Harvey Watson who was wounded fifteen times in the St. Mihiel drive, and who is on a furlough home, gave an interesting account of his experiences during some of the battles in that famous sector, and recounted some of the hardships undergone. Watson said it was impossible to describe the scene with words and that those who did not actually participate in them might not appreciate the terribleness of it.

Not the least enjoyable part of the program was the "little speeches" of Dr. S. A. Coile as he introduced the various speakers.

The musical program icluded selections by a male quartet composed of Messrs. Hull, Allen, Nicholas and Cummins, solos by Herbert Pugh, Frank Roelofson, Jr., and H. J. Becker. Instrumental music was furnished by the Christian Bible school orchestra. The dinner was served by the ladies of the various churches.

COMMITTEE READY

WILL DISCUSS PROPOSED WAR MEMORIAL TONIGHT

MUCH INTEREST TAKEN

Fifteen Organizations Have Named Representatives on Central Body Meeting at 8 o'Clock.

Added interest was given last night to the project to erect a community building in honor of our soldiers and sailors when speakers at the Father and Sons banquet at the Christian church pointed out the need for such an institution in Maryville. Dr. S. A. Coile said it was the one big thing that just at present commanded attention from the people of the community.

Chas. D. Bellows, Jr. voiced the sentiment of the young men that a Y. M. C. A., or Community Building would be a great aid in solving many of the problems that are now uppermost.

What is believed will be the initial step in the realization of Maryville's years of effort to secure such an institution will be taken tonight when the central committee proposed by Mayor Garrett will meet at the Commecial Club rooms to discuss the matter and to take such action as they deem best.

Fifteen organizations of the city, including educational, religious, both Protestant and Catholic, civic and other societies have named representatives to the mayor's committee, and their action tonight will be awaited with confidence that some plan will be evolved whereby Maryville may have a substantial memorial that will be a community service house, typifying the thing American boys fought for service to humanity.

The organizations represented on the committee and their representatives are:

Red Cross, M. J. Alderman.
Home Guards, Sgt. E. C. Curfman.
Normal School, C. A. Hawkins.
City Council, M. A. Hahn.
Sunday schools, C. Edwin Wells.
Ministerial Alliance, D. S. A. Coile.
Commercial Club, Nathaniel Sisson.
Women's Relief Corps, Mrs. M. E. Farrar.

County Court, Fred Wright.
Sedgwick Post, G. A. R., Capt. Chas. Hyslop.
Foresters, Mrs. Tony Bluel.
Spanish-American War Veterans, H. D. Snyder.
Board of Education, Jas. B. Robinson.

"RED" HAS CHANGED

DECLARES FRECKLES HAVE ALL BEEN SCARED AWAY

HIS "COOTIE" BRIGADE

He Writes They Attacked in Close Formation But a Gasoline Barrage Put Them to Rout.

Of all the letters from our soldier boys that have been published in the Democrat-Forum none have been read with greater interest than the quaint and interesting letters from Bryan ("Red") Selis. Bryan is now stationed at Camp Eustis, Va., after overseas service and expects soon to be furloughed or discharged home. In a letter received yesterday by James Todd, he writes as follows:

"I am not writing a war story. I could tell you a whole lot but I will not do it in correspondence. I am not fit for the job as a story writer. • • • If I had had all the trouble my friend Frank McDougal had with Jerry, I would take part in history, but in my two years away frrom home and loved ones, I have passed over a little bit of this old planet and many a time when the old cootie was feeding off my "corn-willie" fed frame, I would scratch and then growl. When the peace armistice was signed I had a whole brigade of cooties on me from the general down, but the one that caused the most trouble was a lance-jack. I set a trap for him. I caught him crawling up to get a bite of my ear and I'll bet he had eight service stripes. But later I was instructed to put up a gasoline barrage. I did, and it worked fine. I had so many prisoners, I had to put a barrage on them also. They ran for my toes and finally they were all gone and that was the end of the cootie brigade.

This sure is some camp. It is a way back into the woods. General Grant is the guy who made it famous, so they put Camp Eustis here. Prices are sure high down here, especially for a man in uniform. I thought prices were high in war worn France where there was nothing, but they are lower there than here in the U. S. I will bet no one will know me when I come in. I am not that same little old red-headed kid who used to play around with dogs. The freckles were about all scared away over there. I am quite a bit taller than I was, but I will never forget the old dogs I had. When my old Sport got killed I cried, just as if my brother had been killed, and as if he was the only creature that loved me.

Did you ever hear how I ran into Dick Livasy over there? I will tell you. It was very appealing to me. This is how it came. Just before the St. Mihiel offensive, we were pulling in with our big guns and we had to stop in a big forest over night and part of the next day. So I got up in the morning out of the box car. I went off into the woods down one of those muddy lanes of Sunny France and my object was water. The first thing I saw was a sentry on guard. I thought to myself, here's where I catch it for roaming around. But I didn't. I saw on his collar "30th Engineers," I knew Dick was in that organization. And the first thing I asked was, "Is Dick Livasy there?" And the lad who was juggling "corn-Willie" said, "he is in there taking instructions on a Stokes mortar." He made me wait. I saw Dick and what a time we had talking over old times. He took me in to dinner and Oh, what a feed? The first good one I had had for a week. I had been living on "corn-Willie," hard tack and water. But just as Dick and I were interested I had to leave. So we pulled on up to the front and here is another tale.

The night before the attack, I was hunting a place to sleep. So I went after some straw. In a little old shack whistling as usual, I was filling my bed with straw and the lad said: "What state are you from?" I hated at first to tell him, thinking he would laugh at me But I braced up and said: "Missouri." And he got deeper. He said, "What town." I said: "Maryville." "I am too," said he. "What's your name?" "Robert Fisher, was the answer. And we talked a little while but we hadn't much time for amusement. John Mutz happened to be in the same place but I never got to see him. • • • Wishing you the best of luck in the future, best regards to all As ever,

RED or SANDY SELLS.

ARGUMENTS BEGIN

FINAL TESTIMONY IN ADKINS CASE HEARD THIS MORNING

WITHHOLDS TIME LIMIT

Judge Woods Permits Attorneys to Speak as Long as They Desire—School Teachers Aid State.

Judge L. B. Woods, sitting as special judge in the Adkins case being heard in circuit court acceded to the request of the attorneys this morning and refused to put a time limit on arguments before the jury. The hearing of testimony was concluded shortly before noon today when "Peck" Jones, cook in a saloon lunch counter in St. Joseph and Eugene Haddon of Atchison county, told of seeing Clyde Horn in St. Joseph the morning of the fire which burned the Clearmont garage. Both witnesses said they saw Horn at the Crystal bar in that city. Haddon, on cross examination, admitted he had pleaded guilty on two occasions in court to a charge of gambling. He gave his present occupation as that of a farmer.

Judge Woods' instructions to the jury were quite lengthy and covered all phases of the case, particular emphasis being given to interpretation of the law as regards circumstantial evidence and the quality of testimony offered as regarded the credibility of witnesses, their character, etc.

With the defense attempting to show that because of the lateness of the school entertainment at Elmo at the picture theatre on the night of the fire, Adkins was unable to leave Elmo until midnight, the prosecution proved by four teachers in the Elmo school that the entertainment was out by 10:30 o'clock.

What Is The Cause of Backache?

BY DOCTOR CORNELL

Backache is perhaps the most common ailment from which women suffer. Rarely do you find anybody free from it. Sometimes the cause is obscure, but Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., a high medical authority, says the cause is very often a form of catarrh that settles in the delicate membranes of the feminine organs. When these organs are inflamed, the first symptom is backache, accompanied by bearing-down sensations, weakness, unhealthy discharges, irregularity, painful periods, irritation, headache and a general run-down condition. Any woman in this condition is to be pitied, but pity does not cure. The trouble calls for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which is a separate and distinct medicine for women. It is made of roots and herbs put up without alcohol or opiate of any kind, for Dr. Pierce uses nothing else in his prescription. Favorite Prescription is a natural remedy for women, for the vegetable growths of which it is made seem to have been intended by Nature for that very purpose. Thousands of girls and women, young and old, have taken it, and thousands have written grateful letters to Dr. Pierce saying it made them well. In taking Favorite Prescription, it is reassuring to know that it goes straight to the cause of the trouble. There is but one way to overcome sickness, and that is to overcome the cause. That is precisely what Favorite Prescription is intended to do.

Send 10c for trial pkg. of Tablets. Address Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Constipated women, as well as men, are advised by Dr. Pierce to take his Pleasant Pellets. They are just splendid for costiveness.

The question is, would we or would we not be patriotic enough if we went to see one of the aforesaid masculines slink or strut through five reels, if the money just went to the movie man.

County Chairman C. E. Wells Announces City and Township Directors anad Workers.

No one doubts the ability of Nodaway county to raise more than its quota for the starving people of Armenia and Syria It is believed that it is not only possible, but altogether probable that much more than the amount will be raised.

The active canvass will start February 16 These few days intervening are busy days for the executive committee here, sending letters and instructions to all district committeemen and getting all the machinery thoroughly oiled for the pressing of the button at 2:30 p. m., Sunday, February 16.

Every school district in Nodaway county is asked to plan a meeting in their school houses for 2:30 o'clock Sunday, Feb. 16, when the campaign will be launched. ## "PALS" TOGETHER

FATHER AND SONS BANQUET LAST NIGHT WAS NOVEL EVENT

BOYS HAD A "COME-BACK",

And Their Elders Heard Some Very Illuminating Things—Returned Soldiers Tell Experiences.

It wasn't hard to tell who were the surprised ones at the banquet last night when two hundred fathers and sons sat down together at dinner in the paroirs of the First Christian church. The sons, from experience, knew what to expect and what was coming, but their dads were entirely unprepared for the things they were told and at the evidence that their progeny were equal to a "come back." And the "come-back" is going to rebound for a considerable time.

It was a novel and altogether enjoyable occasion, the Father an Son banquet and the "pep" of some of the sons found itself recurring in their dads, who tied their best to keep pace with them. J. F. Roelofson started the ball rolling when he discussed "A Dad's Problems." Mr. Roelofson, pointing to the fact that he had two of his own, said he had as yet been unable to solve them, but believed in father and son being pals and friends.

Chas. D. Bellows, Jr., declared the sons had some problems, too, one of them being the disposition of his spare time. Charlie pointed out the need for a Y. M. C. A., that the boys and their fathers might be brought closer together. He said the Zero Club was organized to take the place, after a fashion, of such an organization that the boys might have some place to spend their spare time. He said the boys would welcome the erection of a "Y" building.

Herman W. Hull responded to the toast, "What I Want of My Son," emphasizing the need for patriotic, intelligent, truthful, clean and law abiding young men and citizens.

"What I Want of My Dad," Claude Glass said, was to have him a counselor and protector and one in whom he could confide fully. An amusing personal experience indicated that at least one of these attributes had been found in the elder Glass.

"What I Owe My Son," was discussed by J. F. Hull who said that fathers owed their sons opportunity—the chance to secure education and the right to make decisions for themselves.

Virgil R. Borrusch, in responding to the toast, "What I Owe My Dad" said that sons owed their fathers an obligation that would be hard to repay and that an honest effort should be made to show appeciation by living a manly, upright life and by being the son a father would like to have.

Joseph Jackson, Jr., said his idea of "Son and I" was one of comradeship and pals and a desire on the part of each to make a chum and associate of the other.

Martin Lewis, Jr., who had the other end of the question, "Dad and I," said that after studying the maater over all day he met Mr. Jackson in the church just before the dinner and that after being "pumped" as to what he was going to talk about had listened to Mr. Jackson deliver the talk he had so carefully prepared. Martin's "happy" talk brought many laughs while a serious appeal for closer comadeship between father and son made a deep impression.

"Our Sons Over There," was responded to by I. B. Williams, who pointed out some of the wonderful things that had been accomplished in the war by our boys in khaki. Two words, "pep" and "pals," Mr. Williams said would long be cherished as indicating the spirit of American manhood.

"Why I Shall Need My Dad After the War," was responded to by Eugene Bird, recently returned from service in France, who declared that fathers could help their sons to drop some of their army habits and to return to civil life. Eugene said that the boys would come back with a new philosophy of life and things would be changed for them. "You need not be afraid to talk of religious matters to your boy back from service at the front," said he. "He has learned many things he had never thought of. Alone in shel holes and while in expectancy of every moment being his last, he has thought of his life—he has prayed. I know one sergeant who told me he had to promise himself that he would lead a better life before he could find the courage to go over the top."

Judge John M. Dawson who spoke on "Maryville and Her Boys," said that as he had never raised any sons that he felt peculiaraly fitted to speak on the subject. Judge Dawson explained he workings of the Juvenile court and took occasion to give sever reprimand to negligent parents who allowed their sons to drift into ways and company that later found them leading lives of crime.

Harvey Watson who was wounded fifteen times in the St. Mihiel drive, and who is on a furlough home, gave an interesting account of his experiences during some of the battles in that famous sector, and recounted some of the hardships undergone. Watson said it was impossible to describe the scene with words and that those who did not actually participate in them might not appreciate the terribleness of it.

Not the least enjoyable part of the program was the "little speeches" of Dr. S. A. Colle as he introduced the various speakers.

The musical program icluded selections by a male quartet composed of Messrs. Hull, Allen, Nicholas and Cummins, solos by Herbert Pugh, Frank Roelofson, Jr., and H. J. Becker. Instrumental music was furnished by the Christian Bible school orchestra. The dinner was served by the ladies of the various churches.

COMMITTEE READY

MUCH INTEREST TAKEN

Fifteen Organizations Have Named Representatives on Central Body Meeting at 8 o'Clock.

Added interest was given last night to the project to erect a community building in honor of our soldiers and sailors when speakers at the Father and Sons banquet at the Christian church pointed out the need for such an institution in Maryville. Dr. S. A. Colle said it was the one big thing that just at present commanded attention from the people of the community.

Chas. D. Bellows, Jr. voiced the sentiment of the young men that a Y. M. C. A., or Community Building would be a great aid in solving many of the problems that are now uppermost.

What is believed will be the initial step in the realization of Maryville's years of effort to secure such an institution will be taken tonight when the central committee proposed by Mayor Garrett will meet at the Comercial Club rooms to discuss the matter and to take such action as they deem best.

Fifteen organizations of the city, including educational, religious, both Protestant and Catholic, civic and other societies have named representatives to the mayor's committee, and their action tonight will be awaited with confidence that some plan will be evolved whereby Maryville may have a substantial memorial that will be a community service house, typifying the thing American boys fought for service to humanity.

The organizations represented on the committee and their representatives are:

Red Cross, M. J. Alderman.
Home Guards, Sgt. E. C. Curfman.
Normal School, C. A. Hawkins.
City Council, M. A. Hahn.
Sunday schools, C. Edwin Wells.
Ministerial Alliance, D. S. A. Colle.
Commercial Club, Nathaniel Sisson.

"RED" HAS CHANGED

DECLARES FRECKLES HAVE ALL BEEN SCARED AWAY

HIS "COOTIE" BRIGADE

He Writes They Attacked in Close Formation But a Gasoline Barrage Put Them to Rout.

Of all the letters from our soldier boys that have been published in the Democrat-Forum none have been read with greater interest than the quaint and interesting letters from Bryan ("Red") Selis. Bryan is now stationed at Camp Eustis, Va., after overseas service and expects soon to be furloughed or discharged home. In a letter received yesterday by James Todd, he writes as follows:

"I am not writing a war story. I could tell you a whole lot but I will not do it in correspondence. I am not fit for the job as a story writer. * * * If I had had all the trouble my friend Frank McDougal had with Jerry, I would take part in history, but in my two years away frrom home and loved ones, I have passed over a little bit of this old planet and many a time when the old cootie was feeding off my "corn-willie" fed frame, I would scratch and then growl. When the peace armistice was signed I had a whole brigade of cooties on me from the general down, but the one that caused the most trouble was a lancejack. I set a trap for him. I caught him crawling up to get a bite of my ear and I'll bet he had eight service stripes. But later I was instructed to put up a gasoline barrage. I did, and it worked fine. I had so many prisoners, I had to put a barrage on them also. They ran for my toes and finally they were all gone and that was the end of the cootie brigade.

This sure is some camp. It is a way back into the woods. General Grant is the guy who made it famous, so they put Camp Eustis here. Prices are sure high down here, especially for a man in uniform. I thought prices were high in war worn France where there was nothing, but they are lower there than here in the U. S. I will bet no one will know me when I come in. I am not that same little old red-headed kid who used to play around with dogs. The freckles were about all scared away over there. I am quite a bit taller than I was, but I will never forget the old dogs I had. When my old Sport got killed I cried, just as if my brother had been killed, and as if he was the only creature that loved me.

Did you ever hear how I ran into Dick Livasy over there? I will tell you. It was very appealing to me. This is how it came. Just before the St. Mihiel offensive, we were pulling in with our big guns and we had to stop in a big forest over night and part of the next day. So I got up in the morning out of the box car. I went off into the woods down one of those muddy lanes of Sunny France and my object was water. The first thing I saw was a sentry on guard. I thought to myself, here's where I catch it for roaming around. But I didn't. I saw on his collar "30th Engineers," I knew Dick was in that organization. And the first thing I asked was, "Is Dick Livasy there?" And the lad who was juggling "corn-Willie" said, "he is in there taking instructions on a Stokes mortar." He made me wait. I saw Dick and what a time we had talking over old times. He took me in to dinner and Oh, what a feed? The first good one I had had for a week. I had been living on "corn-Willie," hard tack and water. But just as Dick and I were interested I had to leave. So we pulled on up to the front and here is another tale.

The night before the attack, I was hunting a place to sleep. So I went after some straw. In a little old shack whistling as usual, I was filling my bed with straw and the lad said: "What state are you from?" I hated at first to tell him, thinking he would laugh at me But I braced up and said: "Missouri." And he got deeper. He said, "What town." I said: "Maryville." "I am too," said he. "What's your name?" "Robert Fisher, was the answer. And we talked a little while but we hadn't much time for amusement. John Mutz happened to be in the same place but I never got to see him. * * * Wishing you the best of luck in the future, best regards to all As ever,

RED or SANDY SELLS.

ARGUMENTS BEGIN

FINAL TESTIMONY IN ADKINS CASE HEARD THIS MORNING

WITHHOLDS TIME LIMIT

Judge Woods Permits Attorneys to Speak as Long as They Desire—School Teachers Aid State.

Judge L. B. Woods, sitting as special judge in the Adkins case being heard in circuit court acceded to the request of the attorneys this morning and refused to put a time limit on arguments before the jury. The hearing of testimony was concluded shortly before noon today when "Peck" Jones, cook in a saloon lunch counter in St. Joseph and Eugene Haddon of Atchison county, told of seeing Clyde Horn in St. Joseph the morning of the fire which burned the Clearmont garage. Both witnesses said they saw Horn at the Crystal bar in that city. Haddon, on cross examination, admitted he had pleaded guilty on two occasions in court to a charge of gambling. He gave his present occupation as that of a farmer.

Judge Woods' instructions to the jury were quite lengthy and covered all phases of the case, particular emphasis being given to interpretation of the law as regards circumstantial evidence and the quality of testimony offered as regarded the credibility of witnesses, their character, etc.

With the defense attempting to show that because of the lateness of the school entertainment at Elmo at the picture theatre on the night of the fire, Adkins was unable to leave Elmo until midnight, the prosecution proved by four teachers in the Elmo school that the entertainment was out by 10:30 o'clock.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

If you have a bad taste in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor, lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, troubled with undigested foods, you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief, so you can eat what you like. 15c and 25c per box. All druggists.

What Is The Cause of Backache?

BY DOCTOR CORNELL

Backache is perhaps the most common ailment from which women suffer. Rarely do you find anybody free from it. Sometimes the cause is obscure, but Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., a high medical authority, says the cause is very often a form of catarrh that settles in the delicate membranes of the feminine organs. When these organs are inflamed, the first symptom is backache, accompanied by bearing-down sensations, weakness, unhealthy discharges, irregularity, painful periods, irritation, headache and a general run-down condition. Any woman in this condition is to be pitied, but pity does not cure. The trouble calls for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which is a separate and distinct medicine for women. It is made of roots and herbs put up without alcohol or opiate of any kind, for Dr. Pierce uses nothing else in his prescription. Favorite Prescription is a natural remedy for women, for the vegetable growths of which it is made seem to have been intended by Nature for that very purpose. Thousands of girls and women, young and old, have taken it, and thousands have written grateful letters to Dr. Pierce saying it made them well. In taking Favorite Prescription, it is reassuring to know that it goes straight to the cause of the trouble. There is but one way to overcome sickness, and that is to overcome the cause. That is precisely what Favorite Prescription is intended to do.
